

REPUBLICANS TO PUT UP A FIGHT

Minority Party Names Candidates for State Legislature.

WILL SUPPORT INDEPENDENTS

Nominees for About Forty Seats in the Two Houses.

Virginia Republicans are confining their efforts this year toward electing members of the Legislature only in such districts as they regard Republican or doubtful. They have, therefore, not put a full ticket in the field. They have made nominations for the Senate in nine districts and for the House in about thirty. In some instances they are supporting independent candidates against the regular Democratic nominees.

Here is the list so far as it is available at this time, and it is regarded as fairly complete.

State Senate.
Lee, Scott and Wise—John C. Noel, Pennington Gap.
Russell, Dickenson, Tazewell and Buchanan—Roland P. Chase, Clintwood.

Smyth, Washington and Bristol—A. T. Lincoln, Marion.
Giles, Pulaski, Wythe and Bland—A. P. Strother, Pearisburg.

Floyd and Franklin—George McAlexander, Endicott.

MR. PAGE RETIRES

Goochland Man Fights Party Above Personal Ambition.

Mr. James C. Page, of Goochland, who was a candidate for the House of Delegates from the district composed of Goochland and Fauquier, has withdrawn from the race in favor of party harmony.

Page gave the following statement yesterday: "After two unsuccessful attempts to secure a quorum of the State Democratic Committee to adjust the difference existing between Fauquier and Goochland, I have decided to withdraw my name as a candidate for the Legislature in the district. In taking this step I desire to state that I yield none of the points now in issue as a result of the recent proceedings by the Fauquier committee, and most especially the ignoring of Goochland county entirely in the selection of a candidate without any concurrence whatever on her part. For the sake of party harmony I waive all personal grievances in the matter, and wish to express to my many friends their loyalty to me, and regret that the differences could not be settled. The retirement of all concerned."

The satisfaction of Mr. Page leaves P. A. L. Smith (Democrat) and John G. Lane (Republican), both of Goochland, in the field.

"PSYCHE'S" GREAT FLIGHT
Dirigible Balloon Covers Hundred Miles in About Three Hours.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., October 15.—After traveling through the air a distance of almost 100 miles in three hours and ten minutes, J. C. DeF. Chandler brought the balloon "Psyche" down to earth three miles north of Jacksonville, Ill., late this afternoon, ending the first trial trip taken by the aeronauts, who are to contest in the International races to be held here October 21st. Toward the end of the journey the balloon passed through a rainstorm for almost an hour, but a few minutes in the sunshine dried the envelope and the "Psyche" afterwards rose to a height of 100 miles. The landing was made in a cornfield and no damage was done to the balloon.

Honor North Carolinians.
WASHINGTON, D. C., October 15.—The syndicate of the Potomac to-day elected Rev. C. B. Heller, of Salisbury, N. C., president, succeeding Rev. A. S. Weber, of Baltimore.

And many other painful and serious ailments from which most mothers suffer, can be avoided by the use of "Mother's Friend." This great remedy is a God-send to women, carrying them through their most critical ordeal with safety and no pain. No woman who uses "Mother's Friend" need fear the suffering and danger incident to birth; for it robs the ordeal of its horror and insures safety to life of mother and child, and leaves her in a condition more favorable to speedy recovery. The child is also healthy, strong and good natured. Our book "Motherhood," is worth its weight in gold to every woman, and will be sent free in plain envelope by addressing application to Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

SHIPPERS ASK TWO BILLS OF LADING

Interstate Commission Hears Representatives of Various Interests.

MATTER NOT YET DECIDED

One Is to Be "Straight" Bill and Other Negotiable Paper.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 15.—This afternoon a bill of lading which it is proposed to put into effect on all the railroads of the country on January 1st next by the Interstate Commerce Commission is not satisfactory to the commercial interests, and that two separate bills of lading should be adopted instead, was pointed out at a hearing of these interests before the Interstate Commerce Commission today.

The hearing was one of the most important ever held by the commission from the standpoint of the interests affected by the adoption of a uniform bill of lading in the transportation of freight by common carriers will involve a radical departure from the methods now in use. At present the railroads of the United States use separate bills of lading, and it is the desire of the commission, the shipping and the railroad interests to secure uniformity in the matter, the only question at issue being the method to be employed in bringing about the desired result.

It was the consensus of opinion of the representatives of the interests heard that a recommendation should be made for the adoption by the commission, instead of the one which it was proposed to put into effect, of two bills of lading, one of which should be uniform in character, one to be known as a "straight" bill of lading, and the other as an "order" bill of lading.

Only the members of the commission, upon which money can be raised, an ordinary receipt, which the railroad company gives for a consignment of goods.

It was argued that should the commission adopt the two proposed bills of lading, substantial justice to all interests concerned would be afforded. At the conclusion of the hearing the commission will take the matter under advisement.

A decision will be reached for some time.

DUPONT DIVORCEES WED

Descendants of Founders of Powder Company Ignorant of Disaster.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEW YORK, October 15.—Alfred I. Dupont Demomours, vice-president of the Dupont Powder Company, of Delaware, and Mrs. Alicia Maddox, his second cousin, were married today at the Hotel Plaza.

Only the members of the immediate families were present. Neither Mr. Dupont nor his brother, Morris, who is the executive head of the powder company, had been allowed to hear of the explosion at the Dupont Powder Company's plant at Pontonnet, Ind.

The bridegroom is to be told this morning of the explosion. Mrs. Dupont is a daughter of Judge Bradford, of the United States Circuit Court, and is granddaughter of Alexander I. Dupont, son of the original founder of the powder company. For the last year she has made her home in Paris, where she has a house on the Avenue Bois de Boulogne. Last spring she brought suit for divorce on statutory grounds against her husband, who was an employee of the powder firm. The custody of their only child was awarded to her with her decree. Mr. Dupont himself obtained a divorce from Hattie G. Dupont at Sioux Falls, S. D., last December.

H. C. Farmer.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
LYNCHBURG, VA., October 15.—Mr. H. C. Farmer, a well known young man, aged twenty-one years, died early this morning at his home, after an illness of three weeks of typhoid fever. The deceased was a native of Prince Edward county, and he was a well known young business man. He was a popular member of the Lynchburg Home Guards and a detachment from that command will attend the funeral and act as pall-bearers.

The deceased, in addition to his young wife of a few months, who was Miss Bessie Lawhorne, of Amherst county, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Sarah Jane Farmer, of Prince Edward county, and five sisters and four brothers.

When Lamer, of Mississippi, Secretary of the Interior under Cleveland, half-made the flag out of respect to the unsavory memory of ex-Secretary Thompson (Richard Thompson, of Mississippi), Secretary of the Interior under Buchanan, we feel quite as indignant as our forefathers would have been at a similar tribute to followers of Butler or Johnson. So with Jefferson Davis, who enjoys the unique distinction of being the only American with whose public character that of Benedict Arnold need not fear comparison.

Naturally, the remarks of President Roosevelt, when he stands at the tomb of Jackson at the Hermitage, and when he addresses the people of Vicksburg as he has never been accorded any man yet he pronounced Thomas Jefferson a traitor to France, and had denounced Madison, Monroe and Taylor in terms stronger than many Southern people would use in denunciation of President Lincoln while the War Between the States was raging.

Removal Notice
On the 1st of November I will move to that large and elegant store, No. 815 East Broad Street, where I will conduct the largest and most up-to-date

Loan Office and Jewelry Store
south of New York. After twenty years' continuous business at No. 216 North Ninth Street, I am forced to the conclusion that it is not suitable to the requirements of my business, for there are many people who will not patronize a store on a side street. With increased facilities I will be in position, at my new store, to meet every demand for perfect service.

TO WRITE LIFE OF JACKSON

Strenuous Executive's Changed Ideas Contrasted With Early Writings.

Times-Dispatch Bureau.
Munsey Building.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.

The interesting rumor that President Roosevelt contemplates writing a life of Andrew Jackson, which is a reason for his visit to Nashville in a few days, is in circulation here. In recent years President Roosevelt has manifested the most extravagant admiration for Old Hickory, and has told one or two friends that he was himself of the kind of Democrat that Jackson was.

Mr. Roosevelt has undergone a change of heart and mind towards General Jackson. Some years ago the President said:

"Jackson's administration derives a most unsavory and being the one under which the spoils system became for the first time grafted on the civil service of the nation."

"The two great reasons for Jackson's success through his political career were to be found in the strength of the feeling in his favor among the poorer and least educated classes of voters, and in the ardent support given him by the low politicians, who, by playing upon his prejudices and passions, molded him to their wishes, and who organized and perfected in his selfish and his interests a great political machine, founded on the spoils system."

"Jackson liked Van Buren because the latter had served him both personally and politically—indeed, Jackson was incapable of distinguishing between a personal and political service."

At the conclusion of the latter had served him both personally and politically—indeed, Roosevelt was incapable of distinguishing between a personal and political service."

Thus the historian in years to come may describe the motives behind President Roosevelt's efforts to bring about the nomination of Secretary Tamm to the presidency. President Jackson nominated Van Buren, and the influence of the Chief Executive was chiefly instrumental in electing him. The relations between the two were much those which subsist between President Roosevelt and his War Secretary.

His Intemperance is about to break camp and leave the Louisiana canebrakes to start on a tour through Mississippi and Tennessee. He will make a number of speeches before he leaves the two States and will give a good conclusion that he will "jolly" the audiences who hear him as he has "jolly" Southern people for some years now.

Of course, the President has probably changed his mind, for the South and Southern people since he used to be a frequent contributor to magazines, before he was even a State figure. The way in which he jumped on and stamped Jefferson Davis and Richard Thompson and L. Q. Lamar, all Mississippians, in an article in the North American Review some years ago, was "something awful."

"We feel sure that history will call the War of the Rebellion to be both of all modern wars the most important, and the one in which the dividing lines between right and wrong were sharpest drawn. A Tory of 1776 had far more right on his side than had a Confederate in 1860. Doubtless most Tories believed firmly their cause was right, and after the Revolution they should have been treated as such as possible like their loyal fellow-citizens. But had this been done exceptions would, of course, have been made in some cases—as in that of Benedict Arnold and those of the men who, under Johnson and Butler, took part in the Cherry Valley and Wyoming massacres."

When Lamer, of Mississippi, Secretary of the Interior under Cleveland, half-made the flag out of respect to the unsavory memory of ex-Secretary Thompson (Richard Thompson, of Mississippi), Secretary of the Interior under Buchanan, we feel quite as indignant as our forefathers would have been at a similar tribute to followers of Butler or Johnson. So with Jefferson Davis, who enjoys the unique distinction of being the only American with whose public character that of Benedict Arnold need not fear comparison."

ACONVALESCENT'S SAD CONDITION

A TRIAL OF CUTICURA PROVED SUCCESSFUL
"About four years ago I had a very severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I was taken very ill and was soon in a high fever. I did not get up my bed for four months, and during those of those months I could not move voluntarily, the pain was so intense. My skin peeled, and the hair fell out in bunches. I also had three large bed sores on my back, two on the shoulders and one at the waist. I could have sworn that I had lost my mind. I had lost fully thirty-six pounds, and looked like a consumptive. I did not gain very rapidly, and my appetite was very poor. When I was able to get around, I had all my friends advising remedies, and all guaranteed 'sure cures.' I tried many, but they were of little help, and until I tried Cuticura. Resolute I had had a high fever. I did not get up my bed for four months, and during those of those months I could not move voluntarily, the pain was so intense. My skin peeled, and the hair fell out in bunches. I also had three large bed sores on my back, two on the shoulders and one at the waist. I could have sworn that I had lost my mind. I had lost fully thirty-six pounds, and looked like a consumptive. I did not gain very rapidly, and my appetite was very poor. When I was able to get around, I had all my friends advising remedies, and all guaranteed 'sure cures.' I tried many, but they were of little help, and until I tried Cuticura. Resolute I had had a high fever.
